Topkapı Palace was the official and primary residence of the Ottoman sultans for almost four centuries of their 624 year reign. This illustrated guide to Topkapı Palace, the heart of a vast transcontinental empire until the mid nineteenth century, explores Ottoman history as it relates to specific sections of the palace. Ortaylı, a famed Turkish historian and scholar, introduces the audience to the outer and inner sections of the palace as well as the family quarters, providing them with profound background information about their functions, architecture and decorations. His references to the palace customs, people and particular events present the reader with a living history.

This volume brings together twenty-two authors from various countries who analyze travelogues on the Ottoman Empire between the fifteenth and nineteenth centuries. The travelogues reflect the colorful diversity of the genre, presenting the experiences of individuals and groups from China to Great Britain. The spotlight falls on interdependencies of travel writing and historiography, geographic spaces and specific practices such as pilgrimages, the Hajj and the harem. Other points of emphasis include the importance of nationalism, the place and time of printing, representations of fashion and concepts of masculinity and femininity. By displaying close comparative and distant readings, the volume offers new insights into perceptions of otherness, the circulation of knowledge, intermedial relations, gender roles and digital analysis.
